LECTURE AND PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION BY JONATHAN LEONCINI DipWcf

JONATHAN LEONCINI (DipWcf) has over 40 years of experience in the farriery trade and during his career has shod elite-level racehorses including Melbourne Cup, Caulfield Cup and Cox Plate runners, as well as horses competing at the Olympic Games – working at the highest level of equine performance.

As well as running his own farrier business in Victoria, he also works at Racing Victoria as a race day farrier and is one of the trade school teachers at GOTAFE delivering the Cert IV in Farriery. For the past 10 years he has lectured at Marcus Oldham.

Jonathan has competed across Australia and overseas, including representing Australia at the World Blacksmith Championship in Calgary and has judged local and international competitions including in Malaysia.

“My passion lies in strong foundational farriery.

I believe that mastering the basics creates great farriers and I'm committed to helping others improve their skills while promoting and strengthening our trade for the future”.
